

Status and future of neutrino astronomy and the Global Neutrino Network

Thursday, 19 November 2020 10:45 (35 minutes)

The talk will describe detectors and main results of high-energy neutrino astronomy. It will also sketch the future detectors which hopefully will allow us to conquer an hitherto unexplored territory and pinpoint the sources of high-energy cosmic rays.

Primary author: SPIERING, Christian (DESY)

Presenter: SPIERING, Christian (DESY)

Session Classification: Пленарное заседание

Track Classification: Космо- и астрофизика